

Rowan Mellor

Northwestern University | rowan.mellor@northwestern.edu | +1 847 491 8024 | www.rowanmellor.com

ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT

Northwestern University

Brady Faculty Fellow, 2023-24

University of Toronto

Leverhulme Postdoctoral Fellow, 2021-23

University College London (UCL)

Associate Lecturer in Political Philosophy, 2020-2021

EDUCATION

UCL

PhD Philosophy, 2016-21

Dissertation title: What Does Justice Require of Me? The Individuals Demands of Social Justice and the Paradox of Collective Harm

Abstract: I argue that lawmakers have a special obligation to combat structural injustice. People's positions within a social structure can rationalize behavior which, when performed on a large scale, collectively reproduces social injustice. But a given individual's contribution to this process can be negligible, and so it can seem that no one has a reason to act differently. I argue that lawmakers are uniquely positioned to intervene in the reproduction of structural injustice, since changes in legislation can give individuals reasons to alter their behavior which they would otherwise lack.

Stanford University

Visiting research student, 2019

École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales, Paris

Visiting research student, 2018

UCL

MPhil Philosophy, 2014-16

BA (Hons) Philosophy, First Class Honors, 2011-14

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Areas of specialization: Normative ethics, political philosophy, practical rationality

Areas of competence: Philosophy of law, environmental ethics, philosophy of action, social ontology, philosophy of social science

PUBLICATIONS

'Faces of Vicarious Responsibility' 2021 The Monist 104 (2), 238–250: <https://doi.org/10.1093/monist/onaa035>

'Joint Ought' forthcoming 2023 Philosophy and Public Affairs

'What Are We to Do? The Semantics and Ethics of the Joint Ought' forthcoming 2024 Philosophical Studies (co-authored with Margaret Shea)

In preparation

'Why Cooperate? Team Reasoning and Unwillingness'

Argues that theories of team reasoning cannot account for normative reasons to cooperate.

‘Skepticism About the No-Difference Challenge’

Defends the skeptical view that individuals have no reason to avoid collectively harmful acts.

‘Thinking Together: Towards a Theory of Joint Deliberation’

Argues that joint deliberation can be understood as a shared activity, through which individuals transition between attitudes together.

‘Diachronic Shared Obligation’

Considers whether present individuals can share joint obligations with as-yet non-existent future individual.

‘Choice, Alienation, and the Value of Autonomy’

Argues that the value of autonomy consists neither in the value of choice, nor in that of non-alienation, but rather in the importance of being guided by certain reasons for action.

AWARDS

2021-23	Leverhulme Study Abroad Studentship to undertake 2 years of fully funded postdoctoral research
2019-20	Aristotelian Society Student Bursary, valued at £3,000
2016-19	London Arts and Humanities Partnership (branch of the Arts and Humanities Research Council) Doctoral Scholarship to undertake 3 years of fully funded doctoral research
2015-16	Society for Applied Philosophy Doctoral Scholarship, valued at £10,000
2015-16	UCL Departmental Scholarship, valued at £6,014
2014-15	UCL Jacobsen Scholarship in Philosophy, contribution to tuition fees
2013-14	Richard Murphy Memorial Prize, awarded for best performance in the final year examinations of the UCL BA Philosophy program, valued at £100

TALKS

(* indicates refereed)

(† indicates invited)

‘What Are We to Do? The Semantics and Ethics of the Joint Ought’ (with Margaret Shea)

- * Rocky Mountain Ethics Congress 2023, University of Colorado Boulder, USA

- * Chapel Hill Normativity Workshop 2023, University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, USA

‘Joint Ought’

- † Berkeley Workshop in Law, Philosophy, and Political Theory 2022, University of California Berkeley, USA

- * Humboldt Normativity Conference 2022, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, Germany

- * Rocky Mountain Ethics Congress 2022, University of Colorado Boulder, USA

- † University of Toronto Ethics Group 2022, University of Toronto, Canada

‘Team Reasoning: A Dilemma’

- * Social Ontology and Collective Intentionality 2022, University of Vienna, Austria

‘Sovereignty and Non-Alienation’

- * UCL Graduate Conference 2021, UCL, UK

‘It Makes No Difference: Collective Harm and the Law’

- † UCL Departmental Symposium 2021, UCL, UK

‘Injustice, Excuse and Laundry’

- * POLEMO Symposium 2019, Central European University, Hungary

- * Braga Meetings on Ethics and Political Philosophy 2019, University of Minho, Portugal

‘Social Holism without Social Ontology’

- * Social Ontology and Collective Intentionality 2019, University of Tampere, Finland

- London Intersubjectivity Workshop 2019, UCL, UK

‘Does Joint Agency Exist?’

- * London Graduate Philosophy Workshop 2018, University of London, UK

- * London-Warwick Mind Forum 2018, UCL, UK

‘Are the Proletariat Forced to Sell their Labour?’

- * Braga Meetings on Ethics and Political Philosophy 2018, University of Minho, Portugal

- * UCL Philosophy Graduate Conference 2017, UCL, UK

‘Scanlon on Equality of Opportunity’ (with Véronique Munoz-Dardé)

- † Symposium for TM Scanlon’s ‘Why Does Inequality Matter?’ 2017, EHESS, France

‘What is Collective Responsibility?’

- * Brave New World 2016, University of Manchester, UK

RESPONSES

(* indicates refereed)

‘Threats, Protests and the Possibility of Forgiveness’ Kirstine La Cour, UCL Graduate Conference, 2019, UCL

* ‘Epistemic Coercion’ Sophia Dandelet, London - Berkeley Philosophy Graduate Conference, 2019, University of California Berkeley

‘Joint Action and Dependent Actions’ Catherine Dale, London Intersubjectivity Workshop, 2019, UCL

‘Who Are You Calling Repugnant?’ Nikhil Venkatesh, UCL Philosophy Graduate Conference, 2018, UCL

‘Is all Moral Responsibility Ultimately Individual Responsibility?’ Russell Child, University of London Graduate Philosophy Conference, 2017, University of London

‘Fichte and Davidson on Intersubjectivity’ Rory Phillips, UCL Philosophy Graduate Conference, 2016, UCL

* ‘Two Ways to Want’ Ethan Jerzak, London - Berkeley Philosophy Graduate Conference, 2016, University of London

TEACHING

Primary instructor

‘The Good Society’, Northwestern University, Spring Quarter 2024

‘Topics in Social and Political Philosophy: Freedom and Autonomy’, Northwestern University, Fall Quarter 2023

‘Philosophy of Law’, University of Toronto, Winter Term 2023

‘Environmental Ethics’, University of Toronto, Fall Term 2022

‘Law, Freedom and Morality’, UCL, Spring Term 2021

‘Philosophy and Public Policy’, UCL, Spring Term 2021

‘Why Democracy?’, UCL, Autumn Term 2020

‘Introduction to European History, Law, Politics and Philosophy (Philosophy component)’, UCL, Autumn Term 2020

‘Advanced Tutorials: The Philosophy of Social Science’, UCL, Spring Term 2019

Postgraduate teaching assistant

‘Philosophy and Public Policy’, UCL, Spring Term 2020

‘20th Century Philosophy: Iris Murdoch’s The Sovereignty of Good’, UCL, Autumn Term 2019

‘Advanced Topics in Moral Philosophy: Responsibility, Luck and Excuses’, UCL, Autumn Term 2018

‘Why Democracy?’, UCL, Spring Term 2018

‘Topics in Political Philosophy’, UCL, Autumn Term 2017

‘Regulation of Intimacy: The Politics of Sex’, UCL, Spring Term 2017

‘History of Philosophy I: Ancient Philosophy’, UCL, Autumn Term 2016

SERVICE

Degree Coordinator, BA European Social and Political Studies, UCL, 2020-2021

Personal tutor, European and International Social and Political Studies, UCL, 2020-2021

Co-convener for Departmental Symposium, UCL, 2019-2020

Co-convener for Philosophy PhD Work in Progress seminars, UCL, 2017-2018

Reviewer for Australasian Journal of Philosophy, Philosophical Studies, Political Theory and Utilitas

LANGUAGES

English: native speaker

French: intermediate (B2); courses taken at King’s College London

REFERENCES

Véronique Munoz-Dardé
UCL and UC Berkeley
Gower Street, London WC1E 6BT
v.munoz@ucl.ac.uk

Sergio Tenenbaum
University of Toronto
170 St. George St, Toronto, M5R 2M8
sergio.tenenbaum@utoronto.ca

Joe Horton
UCL
Gower Street, London WC1E 6BT
joe.horton@ucl.ac.uk

Julia Nefsky
University of Toronto
170 St. George St, Toronto, M5R 2M8
julia.nefsky@utoronto.ca